The Protein Diet (VLCD / LCD)

A fast, safe, non-pharmacological way to help your patients lose weight

In 1970, Dr. Blackburn began his research on fasting and in 1973 described the protocol for his technique during his Ph.D. thesis examination of the biochemistry of nutrition.

That's when the Protein Diet was born.

Dr. Blackburn showed that caloric loss combined with the absence of carbohydrates could neutralize any amphibolic effect of insulin on the lipid metabolism. This way, insulin was maintained at low levels, while the triglyceride catabolism kicked in and the metabolites (particularly the ketone bodies) would provide the organism's energy requirements.

The benefits of ketone bodies

The Protein Diet protects the nitrogen balance and suppresses hunger thanks to the state of ketosis that accompanies it. The PD creates the simplest form of ketosis, cetogenesis, a process that allows the liver to oxidize enormous quantities of fatty acids, freeing one of their principal metabolites: ketone bodies. This oxidation process takes place when fatty acids become the organism's principal energy source.

Dr. Blackburn determined the exact quantity of proteins to be given to a patient during a protein diet to protect the muscular system. During a 24-hour period, the patient must take between 1.2 g and 2.5 g of protein for every kilogram (2.2 lbs) of ideal weight. By this method, the protein intake greatly compensates for the mobilization of endogenous proteins.

Based on this research, ProtiDiet created a line of high-quality protein supplements to help the patients of health care professionals reach their ideal weight via Protein Diet.

Since 1988, we've helped HEALTH CARE PROFESSIONALS around the world help their patients achieve their goals with the highest quality products.
